Madison Also May Redistrict Its Wards

City Population Could Necessitate Cutback From 5 to 4 Wards

The Madison city council instructed its legal department to determine if the city's ward makeup is in conformity with the one-man, one-vote mandate of the courts during a regular meeting Tuesday night.

Mayor Stephen Maers noted that if the city is in violation of statutory requirements by the April 1968 municipal election, the council will be faced with a redistricting problem, similar to that in Granite City.

The council also may be forced to reduce from five wards to four, as its municipal population is under 10,000, but it could defer such action unless a legal objection is made and a court order is issued.

Fire Calls
Mayor Maers said the study on city liability in answering fire calls outside of the city limits is continuing.

He said that since an announcement at the council's last meeting that fire protection may be withdrawn from out-of-town areas, including unincorporated East Madison, he has received only one call from an area resident who showed some concern.

"The people are not taking time out to investigate this situation," he said.

A legal opinion provided the Granite City council showing liability for service to unincorporated areas was read to the Madison aldermen.

The mayor said the study of the situation in Madison is continuing, but that the present fee of $100 per call for out-of-town fires is insufficient. He said the minimum should be raised from $100 to about $300 to cover the extra liability.

Mailing Addresses
The mayor complained of unfavorable publicity given to the city because of address non-residents who have Madison mailing addresses.

He referred particularly to North Venice, East Madison and Cloverleaf residents who use Madison as an address when they are charged with law violations.

"We have our own problems within the confines of our community, like anyone else," he said. "It is terrible to have to stand abuses where people are not aware of them. We don't know how we can correct that. We should not be subjected to criticism in such a derogatory manner. We should not be indirectly blamed for the actions of our residents who are occurring in Madison county."

Mayor Maers said attempts may be made to switch North Venice from the Madison postal zone to the Venice postal zone to the Venice postal district if it will have the effect of the classification of the Madison post office.

It was noted later that Quad-City police departments, including Madison's, also use the Madison address for out-of-town violators.

Defer Tax Payment
The council decided to defer payment of a 1968 tax bill from the city of St. Louis to the Chain of Rocks Bridge property, as the assessment on the property remained at $800,000 for 1967.

The city is attempting to obtain an assessment reduction from Missouri authorities because the bridge no longer produces revenue.

Tree of Lights' Donations To Clothe Needy Children

Contributions to the Salvation Army "Tree of Lights" campaign to provide Christmas baskets for needy families are being accepted at the city hall. The campaign, which is being conducted by the Salvation Army, is a nationwide effort to provide Christmas baskets for needy families.

Children lacking warm winter garments, reached a total of 2,000 last year. Approximately 40% of the 8,000 quota.

Capt. Harold F. Thomas reported that additional contributions are being tabulated daily as they arrive at the office by mail and through personal delivery.

Donations to date have turned on 114 lights on the Salvation Army Christmas Tree in Memorial Park across from St. Elizabeth Hospital.

Capt. Thomas also announced that the Salvation Army's "Clothe a Child" program will begin tomorrow. More than 300 names of needy children in the Quad-City area have been submitted by local school authorities, the SA commanding officer said.

Children in the clothing project, children will be escorted to local retail stores and furnished with either new shoes or a new coat. Capt. Thomas explained. Funds for the program are provided by the Tree of Lights appeal.

$140,000 Restaurant Planned for Local Area

Will Be Built by New Franchise Firm With Headquarters in GC

Organization of a nation-wide chain restaurant corporation which will build its first restaurant in Granite City as well as maintain headquarters here was announced yesterday by Andrew Rapoff, president of the new firm.

Plans to begin construction of the corporation's first restaurant at 3901-3911 Namekool road within a month were announced simultaneously with notice by Secretary of State Paul Powell's office at Springfield that it has issued a charter to Momma Mia's Restaurant, Inc., authorizing operation of a restaurant franchise business and the acquisition, sale and management of real estate necessary to such operations.

The charter also authorizes issuance of up to 10,000 shares of stock with a par value of $100 per share. Headquarters of the corporation is listed at 2216 Madison avenue, location of Royce Realty and the Granite City Commercial Real Estate Corp.

Officers of Firm
In addition to Rapoff as president, officers of the new firm are Norman Spener, St. Louis, secretary-treasurer, and Alfred Melchiorre, Buffalo, N. Y., vice-president. David Goldschlager, East St. Louis attorney, is correspondent for the corporation.

Rapoff said all restaurants franchised by the firm, including the one to be built here, will be designed by David Goldschlager, who will design with interior Italian decor and will specialize in serving Italian foods. American-type foods also will be available in limited quantities.

in which a Salvation Army collection booth was shoved through a display window of the F. W. Woolworth store here and two persons were injured, including a SA member who was a planned insider. The driver of the auto, Mrs. Delores Clara Meade of Worden, had attempted to move up one parking space, but the car jumped the curb, caused another woman to fall and hit the booth.

Abundant Rain Freezes Today--Causes Problems

Continuing rainfall last night and early this morning which brings this month's total to almost three times the full normal amount, has caused hazardous driving conditions on many highways.

Overpasses and bridge decks were called out at 3:30 a.m. today to salt the deck of McKinley bridge because of the icing condition. One serious accident in which four persons were injured occurred on rain-slick pavement in Venice last night.

Temperatures hovered right at the freezing mark in and around the Quad-City area this morning. Accidents caused by icy pavements resulted in lengthy traffic tieups on Veterans Memorial and Eads bridges during the rush hour this morning, but no mishaps occurred on McKinley bridge.

Total 13 inches
According to rainfall records recorded at the Chain of Rocks Canal locks, total rainfall this month, including today's 8 a.m. reading of .26 inch, and the .91 inch Tuesday, is 5.3 inches, with measurable rainfall recorded on nine of the 14 days of this month. Normal rainfall for December is 1.97 inches.

This month's 5.3 inches brings to 36.65 inches the total rainfall this year. This is 2.2 inches more than the normal rainfall of 34.45 inches for the full 12 months of the year.

3 DAYS WITHOUT A QUAD-CITY TRAFFIC FATALITY

Police reported the crash occurred as a car driven by Marilyn McNeill, 18, of 2157 Monroe street in Madison, was making a left turn from Broadway onto Seventh street. Ohlendorf is president of the Venice Park board.

Both drivers were injured, as were two passengers in the McNeill car. They are Vera Sabo, 18, of 1722 Fourth street, Madison, and Lynn Willie, 18, of 2222 Lincoln avenue, Ohlendorf suffered cuts to his nose and left cheek. Miss McNeill suffered injuries to her head, chest and left elbow, while the other two victims were treated for leg injuries. All were X-rayed.

Ice Obstructs Vision
Homer Huffstutter, 49, of 2517 East 23rd street, was injured when his auto struck another driven by Wilbur Cruse, 1624 Spring avenue, at 5:30 a.m. today at Madison and Niedringhaus avenues. He was treated at St. Elizabeth Hospital for a lacerated chin and was released.

Huffstutter was charged for driving with his vision obstructed by an icy windshield. Cruse was charged with a violation of a driver's license restriction, lack of corrective lenses.

Paul F. Trudell, 20, a soldier stationed at the Granite City Army Depot, was injured when his auto, which was being pushed, struck the rear of an

Before striking the booth, the auto caused Mrs. Gladys Markovic, 1638 Third street, Madison, to fall to the ground. She was injured. A mother dropped her child to the sidewalk while scouting out of the way, but he was not hurt. He is James L. Claxton III, two, of 2353 Carlson avenue.

4 Persons Hurt In 2-Car Crash; Other Mishaps

128-Apartment Complex Planned in New GC Area

City Plan Commission To Act Tomorrow on Petition for Rezoning

Plans for development of a multi-million-dollar apartment complex on a nine-acre tract of land in Granite City south of East Ponton road are scheduled for public hearing before the Granite City Planning Commission in its regular meeting at city hall tomorrow afternoon.

The proposal calls for construction of 128 apartment units in 15 separate buildings comprising a complex bounded on the north by the Eighth Cloverleaf addition extending along the south side of Ponton road, and between Stevens avenue and Village lane.

The area proposed for development is part of a 117-acre tract which was annexed to Granite City in the fall of 1965 upon petition of the property owner.

William Hoelscher, chairman of the city planning commission, said tomorrow's hearing will involve a petition for rezoning of a 150-foot "buffer strip" in its present R-3 (single family) and R-4 (duplex) zoning to R-5 (multiple dwelling) zoning. All of the area included in the proposed development already has multiple dwelling zoning, with exception of the buffer strip which was established at the time of annexation.

LAYOUT PLANS FILED
Hoelscher said the rezoning petition was filed by John Defford of St. Louis, who has filed a petition for rezoning of a 150-foot "buffer strip" in its present R-3 (single family) and R-4 (duplex) zoning to R-5 (multiple dwelling) zoning. All of the area included in the proposed development already has multiple dwelling zoning, with exception of the buffer strip which was established at the time of annexation.

The plans call for construction of six "Town House" structures of one story, each containing four two-bedroom apartments. Three of these buildings will be located along the edge of the Cloverleaf addition, at the northern boundary of the development. The recreation will adjoin the Cloverleaf addition.

In addition the plans provide 64 one-bedroom and 40 two-bedroom apartments in nine additional, two-story structures. Plans also include a swimming pool, laundry facilities and ample parking space, Hoelscher said.

While Village Lane does not now exist as a street, in the city, the development plan provides for building and paving the street southward from downtown GC to where it now exists only as a beginning point. The work would be done by the developer, Hoelscher said.

Hoelscher said he had met with Defford concerning the plans but that no estimate of cost was announced. Defford said he was reached for comment today.

The petition for rezoning and the apartment layouts were filed with the planning commission in the name of Granite City Village Apartments, Inc.

Adjourn Subdivision Tract. Hoelscher pointed out that the proposed apartment area directly adjoins a tract for which a subdivision petition was approved two years ago at the request of Arthur McFarland Associates, Inc. That section was approved for subdividing of Stearns avenue, Hoelscher said.

The planning commission also is scheduled to act tomorrow on three petitions for use of the area for establishment of professional offices in residential areas.

These include a petition of LMS Investments, Inc., by George Louis for a use permit (Continued on Page 13, Col. 1)

Larger Draft Quotas In County next Month

A larger draft quota for the Quad-City area is scheduled for next month. It was announced Tuesday at the county selective service office in Edwardsville, where increases for the Alton and Edwardsville areas also were noted.

Next month, 18 local youths are to be drafted, on Jan. 19, compared to two this month. Alton has two quotas of 31 youths each on Jan. 12 and Jan. 26, and 65 Edwardsville youths are to get the examinations on Jan. 12.

During all of 1967, there were 85 Quad-Cityans inducted, compared to 221 in 1966, and the larger quotas are expected in 1968.

For the January induction, youths 19 years old or older, 26 years are to be called. Those married prior to Aug. 26, 1965, are not included.

Along with the induction calls, there also will be four quotas in the county for youths to take pre-induction physical examinations.

Locally, 78 youths are to take pre-draft physicals on Jan. 19. Alton has two quotas of 31 youths each on Jan. 12 and Jan. 26, and 65 Edwardsville youths are to get the examinations on Jan. 12.

Entries Needed in GC Yule Lighting Contest Next Week in GC-Madison

Again this year, with the advent of the Christmas season, bright lights twinkle from doors, yards, windows, trees and roof-tops throughout the Quad-Cities.

Traditions of home lighting and decorating contests in Granite City and Madison also affords local residents an opportunity to display their individual artistic skills by competing for prizes in their communities.

Two annual lighting contests once again will be sponsored by Granite City Jaycees and the Madison Rotary Club. Both are co-sponsored by Illinois Power Co. However, the events are judged independently and differ in entry rules.

Granite Cityans wishing to enter the Jaycees contest must complete and mail an entry blank to Post Office Box 3, Granite City, by midnight, Sunday, Dec. 17. Entry forms also may be deposited in boxes, where contest posters are displayed, until Monday, Dec. 18. Application blanks may be found in today's issue of the Press-Record, or may be obtained at Granite City Trust & Savings Bank, First National Bank, American National Bank, or Kroger, Tri-City and National Food stores.

No prior registration is required to enter the Madison contest. Judging in Madison will take place Wednesday, Dec. 20, with all decorated homes displaying Christmas lights to be inspected.

Five $20 first-place prizes will be awarded to lucky contestants in Madison, according to an announcement by Harvey Miller, Madison Rotary president.

Judging of homes entered in the Granite City lighting event also will take place next week, with Eugene Alassi, Granite City high school art director, selecting eight first-place winners. Prizes in the Granite City contest will be outdoor lamp posts, donated by Illinois Power Co. A total of eight lamp post awards will be made in the Yuletide event.

Maternity Leave Teacher Policy Will Be Revised

A decision to revise a 1965 Granite City school board policy on maternity leaves was made at a meeting of the board Monday night.

The existing policy requires that the superintendent by a teacher not later than the fifth month of pregnancy, and that she withdraw from teaching after six months or sooner, at the discretion of the superintendent or teacher. She may return at the beginning of a school year following six months of leave.

There is no pay allowance for a maternity leave, and a second leave continuous with one already in effect is not granted. The maximum number of such leaves is listed as three, with at least two school years between each. The duration of the leave cannot exceed 366 days.

The Salary and Policy Committee of Local 743, American Federation of Teachers, has sought clarification and review of "forced resignations due to motherhood" and other teacher hiring policies.

The board employed as cafeteria workers Mrs. Helen Gladys Wigger, 2018 Missouri avenue, Mrs. Bertha Marcelene Boone, 3144 Jull avenue, and Mrs. Gisella Rose Nyers, 1751 Olive street.

Leaves are being granted to Mrs. Jo Ann Massa, Collinsville, a Central junior high school mathematics teacher, for the spring semester; Mrs. Dorina Knight, 100 Briarhaven, Parkway lower primary teacher, effective Jan. 29, and Mrs. Sharrette Mader, 3947 Porton road, Stallings fourth grade teacher, effective Dec. 22.

The "at least two years" interpretation of the present policy but indicated that some revisions will be made in the policy itself.

The board Monday night supported its administrative staff's interpretation of the present policy but indicated that some revisions will be made in the policy itself.

55 Age Limit On New School Employees Ended

An age limit of 55 on hiring of new Granite City school employees was eliminated by the board Monday night. A new Illinois law, Senate Bill 985, bans age discrimination in employment.

It was noted that R. W. Defenbaugh, assistant legal advisor to State Supt. Ray Page, has issued a legal opinion describing refusal to hire because of age an unlawful employment practice, but also saying that age distinction can be made based on "the reasonable demands of the position."

A list of cafeteria staff substitutes was approved, and it was noted that 40 are to be called on a rotating basis. An earlier list establishing steadier work for a substitute group chosen "due to hours worked previously and the date of application" no longer is being followed.

Board President Monroe Worthen urged that new permanent cafeteria employees be hired immediately after vacancies occur or after place count justifies additional positions.

It was noted that 40 are to be called on a rotating basis. An earlier list establishing steadier work for a substitute group chosen "due to hours worked previously and the date of application" no longer is being followed.

Proposed revision of the school curriculum and assistant secretaries at Coolidge and Central junior high schools. The latter two will transfer to Grigby junior high school when it opens.

Also under study is a possible pay change for retired custodians called as substitutes.

1st Trojan League Win 69-68 Thriller at Dupo

Rallying in the second half and then withstanding an enemy rally in the closing seconds, defending champion Madison high school opened its Midwestern Conference season with a 69-68 win at Dupo Tuesday night. The local team is 3-0 for the year.

Captain John Logan's Trojans led 20-12 after the first period but dropped behind 37-34 at halftime before building a nine-point lead in the third quarter, which ended 53-46.

Hampered on defense by the absence of Jim Scott and Keith Williams, Madison saw its lead dwindle to three points mid-way in the last period, but the Tigers never caught up. It was 69-68 until the final seconds, when Madison led Dupo score a field goal without interference in order to avoid fouling.

Gary Lusk continued his hot scoring pace, catching 10 of 15 field goal attempts and eight of 16 free throws for 28 points. Joe Collins hit nine of 15 from the field for 18 points and also captured 15 rebounds.

Other pointmakers were Tom Weston, 11, Allen Glasper, six, Titus Shippe five and Wilber Glasper, one.

The spark that ignited the third period surge after the second quarter collapse was believed to be a halftime switch from zone defense to man-to-man coverage.

Initial Venice Setback, 73-71 By Bunker Hill

After winning one MCM Conference game and one non-league contest, Venice high school went down to defeat for the first time this season, bowing 73-71 to Bunker Hill in an MCM clash here Tuesday night.

Racing to a 20-7 lead that was 20-10 at the end of the first quarter, Coach Bill Ohendorf's Red Devils fell behind 36-35 at the half and 51-47 after the third period before staging an almost successful comeback.

The deficit was 12 points for part of the second half.

Outscoring the Minutemen 24-22 in the closing quarter, Venice cut an eight-point, 69-61 enemy advantage in half on two field goals by Frank Glover.

Rick Scroggins, high scorer for the visitors with 35 points, missed the first shot twice on one-one-one fouls called as the Red Devils fought for possession.

A long jump shot by John Gardner cut the difference to 69-67 but Scroggins sank two free throws and later another pair to make it 73-69. This left only enough time for Gardner to hit another long goal.

Bunker Hill has now won five

Coolidge Mat Tie

Coolidge junior high wrestlers came from behind to tie the 24-24 at Belleville East yesterday.

Bruce Hawkins pinned his foe in 1:40 and there were victories on points by Len Fuchs, Ken Simon, Kim Gatten and Jeff Parker. Others competing were Bob Kozak, Tom Easton, Keith Rogers, Tom Mitchell, Dave Brewer and Mark Mizeraki. It was the fourth meet for Coolidge, rally beats GC Sops.

GCIS sophomores cagers lost 62-58 at Assumption Monday night after leading 19-11, 32-26 and 47-43 at the quarters.

Warrior scorers were Steve Harris 16, Dave Melzer 15, Tim Schwendeman 10, Gary Johnson nine, Jeff Boyles four, Mark Rigby two and Dave Evans two.

Of six starts, but the Red Devils believe they would have won if they could have avoided an excessive number of bad passes and other turnovers.

Venice lost the ball 22 times. The host team was outshot 35% to 48%.

Scorers were Gardner 23, Russ Turner 17, Tom McIntosh 14, Glover five and George McIntire, Larry Mosby and Fessler Gary, four each.

Soccer Field Planner

An article Monday said Everett Demott was honored at the annual YMCA soccer meeting for organizing teams at St. Elizabeth school. Actually, George Fuchs and Joe Thompson started soccer at St. Elizabeth and Demott was active in planning the soccer field.

Scott Wilson made the first goal of the game and the first goal of the local school's initial year in varsity soccer play. Wilson made a head shot at the goal on a pass from outside left Jerry Monahan.

The Raiders made a goal when the ball deflected from one of the Warriors into the net, resulting in a 1-1 halftime tie.

In the second half, Monahan set up outside right John Winfield for a headshot and score.

Winfield then passed to John Martinez, who dribbled past the defensive fullback and hit a clear shot high into the net from the penalty stripe.

Martinez scored again later on a pass from Domingo Valencia.

On this shot, he drove the ball into the far corner of the net, catching the goalie leaning the other way.

Scoring the fifth goal late in the game was Gary Mefford, who drove in a pass from Martinez.

Coach Tom Wrotysek said GCIS mainly tried to control the direction of the ball. "We sent a three-man line forward and kept the other four forward men spread out across the middle to feed the ball to the front line. We did just the opposite when playing defensive ball."

The junior varsity played its first game winning 3-0 on two goals by Tony Kozol and one by Larry Knox.

FREDMAN BROS. FURN. CO.

A Sale With a Reason... Not Just An Excuse! WHAT IS A BARGAIN?

You, the homemaker, are constantly besieged with advertisements of merchandise called bargains at prices reduced from much higher "list prices." Many of the values are authentic; some, possibly, are not.

However, no one can afford a legitimate bargain unless they have a legitimate reason for doing so. Fredman Bros. has such a reason for offering values far beyond the usual! The last six months have been among the busiest in our history. Business has been good; it has been so good that we have reached our profit quota for the year. Most of anything else we make now would be paid out in taxes. Therefore, we've slashed prices throughout the store with only 3 things in mind:

1. Show our appreciation to our customers and friends in the Quad-City area by offering them an opportunity to buy all their Christmas gifts at "After Christmas" prices.
2. Reduce the overstock now instead of waiting 'til after Christmas.
3. Open up 500 new accounts before the end of the year.

Therefore, all merchandise will be marked down as much as 30% to 60%, just as if it were after Christmas, but you can still have it delivered in time to give as a Christmas gift.

17 in Night High School to Graduate; New Enrollment

Adults of Granite City Community Unit School District No. 9 who are interested in obtaining a high school diploma through the evening school program should contact the high school at once, it was announced today.

Seventeen adults will complete work for a high school diploma on Wednesday, Jan. 3, and 32 other adults will finish in May 1968.

Enrollment for the second semester will start Monday, Jan. 8, and close Friday, Jan. 12.

"If you have attended a high school other than Granite City senior high school and you live in the Granite City school district, you should have your transcript sent to the principal of Granite City high school for evaluation," a spokesman explained.

"All new students must have their high school work evaluated before permission to enroll will be given. Adults are reminded that they can get credit from many of the jobs that they are now in, on a work credit basis."

The offices of GCHS are open from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. daily and from 7 p.m. to 9 p.m. during the week for adult counseling.

Coffee House Bombing Being Investigated

The Madison county sheriff's office, state police, FBI and the Granite City Army Depot demolition squad are cooperating in investigating the bombing of the O. K. Coffee House, 3 National avenue, State Park Place, earlier this week.

No leads have been developed so far, according to Chief Deputy Sheriff Frank Schmidt, "but we hope to have something within a day or two."

The establishment had not yet opened for the day when the explosion occurred Monday morning. The front of the building was shattered.

Schmidt, who said it was not a gas explosion, is awaiting a report from the 30th Ordnance Detachment, an explosives disposal unit at the Granite City Army Depot to determine the type of explosive used.

If it is determined that it came from another state, the FBI will have a definite interest in the case, he added. The restaurant is owned by two sisters, Sherry and Patricia Williams, both of 9804 Collinsville road. They were away during the weekend.

It was one of three blasts which occurred in the Illinois area within a 36-hour period, with the other two occurring at St. Clair county taverns. One was near Lebanon and one was south of Belleville, where there also was considerable damage.

Jaycees Donate Crib Covers To St. Elizabeth Hospital

Part of the proceeds from last week's Granite City Jaycees "Bowling Sweepstakes" was used to purchase plastic dome crib covers for the pediatrics ward at St. Elizabeth Hospital.

Presentation of the covers took place Tuesday afternoon at the hospital with the local Jaycee organization represented by James Jeffries, president, Paul Freeman and Harry Cook. Sister Mary Pauline, head nurse in pediatrics, accepted the gift.

Freeman, who is serving as arrangement chairman for the Jaycees' annual children's Christmas party next Wednesday, today said that young patients at the hospital will be entertained with refreshments, gifts and other treats in the pediatrics solarium, starting at 6:30 p.m.

An appearance by Santa Claus will highlight the occasion, and children confined to their beds will receive a personal visit from the jolly old gentleman, Freeman reported.

This year's "Bowling Sweepstakes" was arranged by Boyd Presley, who, earlier this week, announced the contest a success. A portion of the funds accrued from the project will be used to provide Yuletide food baskets and clothing for needy Quad-City families.

Board Revises Policy On Use Of GC Schools

A revised school building rental policy was adopted Monday night by the Granite City school board, which will require all except Parent-Teacher Association units, scouting groups and school organizations to apply in advance by letter to use school facilities.

Dates are to be cleared with building principals, and contracts are to be prepared. Board approval will be necessary in order to make each contract effective.

The policy outlines the overall purpose as to permit public use of buildings and grounds as long as it does not conflict with school activities, with rent charged to avoid the school system shouldering extra operating cost.

WOULD YOU BELIEVE 19¢ A POUND COFFEE?

If you don't, you were in the same boat with many of our other customers who just couldn't believe coffee would be sold that cheap. So many of our customers told us that they thought the newspapers had made a mistake. However, that is what we actually sold it for, with coupon, in our ad of Nov. 29. We realize our prices are sensational, but we didn't think that they were unbelievable. Our coffee buyer, Dick Roderick, hadn't been smoking any bananas when he put the 19¢ price in our ad, he just wanted you—our customers to save some money (about $5¢ worth). You see, we don't make any money in this business, but we have a lot of fun. So the next time you see in our ad, Coffee for 19¢ a pound, or eggs at a nickel a dozen or something just as ridiculous, don't shy away from it because we want you to take advantage of these buys. After all we are only continuing our policy of the last 53 years of offering our customers some amazing values.

Oranges and Pork Chops—Good!

Pork chops, scorn squash, fresh oranges and orange juice concentrate blend their flavors in a delicious skillet dinner. This most-vegetable-fruit dish can be prepared in a short time, and it's oh, so kind to your budget!

The chops and sliced squash simmer in a spicy, tart-sweet sauce of frozen Florida orange juice concentrate, brown sugar and ginger. Orange slices add bright, fresh flavor and texture.

Use Florida oranges frequently in cooking and baking as well as for juicing, and in fruit cups, salads, desserts, and for out-of-hand eating, too. They're full of valuable vitamins C, needed daily for good health and vitality.

Orange Pork Chop Skillet Dinner
1 can (6 ounces) frozen Florida orange juice concentrate, thawed, undiluted
2 tablespoons brown sugar
2 teaspoons ground ginger
1 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon Tabasco
6 pork chops, cut 1/4-inch thick
1 scorn squash
2 Florida oranges
Combine undiluted orange juice concentrate, brown sugar, ginger, salt and Tabasco. Brown pork chops on both sides in skillet rubbed lightly with fat trimmings from chops. Drain all fat from pan. Wash and slice squash into rings 1/4-inch thick; remove seeds and cut rings in halves. Arrange squash with chops in skillet. Pour on orange juice mixture. Cover and simmer 45 minutes or until chops are tender, spooning sauce over chops and squash several times during cooking. Slice oranges 1/4-inch thick; cut each slice in half. Add orange slices to skillet last 5 minutes of cooking time. YIELD: 6 servings.

U. S. Court Told Rail Tax Rule Shifts Burden

Madison county officials told the U. S. Supreme Court in a brief filed at Washington Tuesday that court decisions lightening the burden of taxes paid by Madison county's 13 operating railroads is shifting an unfair tax burden to non-railroad taxpayers.

The pleading was filed to support a county plan to the high court to review an Illinois Supreme Court decision favoring the railroads in their objections to property assessments in Madison county from 1957 through 1962. The ruling meant a tax refund of more than $1.5 million to the railroads.

It also contends that a constitutional question is involved, placing the case within the jurisdiction of the U. S. High court. The Supreme Court previously refused to accept an appeal of the Illinois court decision on grounds that it did not have jurisdiction.

Violates 14th Amendment

Burton C. Bernard, Granite City attorney acting as special assistant to Madison County State's Atty. Leon Morgan, pointed out that the Illinois decision, which reversed an earlier circuit court ruling holding in favor of the county, violates the Fourteenth Amendment to the constitution by discriminating against non-railroad taxpayers and in favor of railroad taxpayers.

The railroads have filed a brief urging the Supreme Court to reject the hearing request and against court decisions that county officials, representing the people of the state, have no legal standing to bring the case to the high court. They also contend that no important federal questions are involved, that the first Supreme Court rejection disposed of all substantial issues and that only individual taxpayers claiming discrimination have standing to initiate proceedings under the Fourteenth Amendment.

Used Higher Ratios
The complex case grows out of railroad allegations that their property was assessed at ratios higher than those used in determining other property valuations and that therefore they were overtaxed.

In the brief filed Tuesday, county officials told the court that the ultimate decision in the controversy involves the proportionate share of property taxes to be paid by the railroad taxpayers and non-taxpayers. "There is an upper limit on the property tax burden which the people will accept," the document said. "To superimpose on this burden the taxes which the railroad should pay will cause that limit to be reached sooner than if the railroads pay their proper share."

New directors elected are: Robert J. Walters, Alton, public relations and advertising agent; Ferd Goewert, secretary of the Belleville Chamber of Commerce; William C. Schreck of the Illinois Power Co. at Collinsville; William C. Boyne, assistant manager of Metro-East Journal; Boeker, Ralph Morris, Granite City realtor, and Lee R. Bunker, of the Clair Refinery for the Wood River and East Alton area.

Newly-elected officers will be installed in the annual meeting which will be held during January on a date yet to be announced. The meeting Tuesday night was held in the Sunset Hill Holiday Inn.

Reports by Harold Fischer of Granite City, chairman of the Long-Range Planning committee, and by B. L. Hantel, chairman of the program committee, were presented. Fischer's report outlined the organization's desire to employ a full-time director, but he emphasized this would not be in the immediate future.

Circulation of a bi-monthly news letter as a means of developing more thorough communications within the organization was announced by Hantel. Distribution of the pamphlet was begun recently.

Need of an industrial development survey with complete data on the overall industrial picture in this area also was discussed.

TB Seal Art Designs Displayed at Kickoff

Thomas W. Butler of Alton, chairman of the 1967 Christmas Seal campaign in Madison county, said this week the original art of designs submitted for the 1967 Christmas Seal were displayed at a statewide campaign kickoff program at Peoria, and that this year's selected design is one that could be adapted to many uses.

Butler said that California artist Gerald Snyder who submitted the winning design was a guest of the Illinois Tuberculosis Association at the kickoff program which was held to honor county campaign chairmen. The seal this year is a colorful train loaded with holiday symbols, and is the first 10-unit design in Christmas Seal history.

In a television interview with Snyder during the program, Butler pointed out that Miss Linda Karen Smith, 2521 East 23rd street, Granite City, won the amateur division of art designs in 1966, while a Madison county artist, Herman Winter Jr., of Edwardsville won first place that year.

Butler said that Christmas Seals, which originated in the United States in 1907, do much more today in supporting programs, medical research and community efforts in the fight against tuberculosis, emphysema, chronic bronchitis and a long list of crippling lung diseases.

"We have received $28,435, almost 53% of the Madison county seal campaign goal of $53,800 thus far," Butler said.

State Asks Drivers To Be 'En Garde'

State Safety Director Ross V. Randolph today issued a plea to motorists to use restraining belts, especially during the heavily travelled days between now and shortly after New Year's Day.

"The odds of being killed or seriously injured in an automobile crash soar for those who neglect to use their safety belts or shoulder harnesses," Randolph said.

He advocated defensive driving and suggested there would be more safety on the highways if every driver realized that other drivers may not be so considerate. Have the car thoroughly checked, especially the tires, suggested Randolph, if you expect to travel on the highways within the next several weeks.

Overseas Soldier Expresses Concern over Anti-War Demonstrations 'Back Home'

A young soldier formerly stationed at the Granite City Army Depot and now based in Thailand, who discloses his concern for the anti-war demonstrations at home in a letter to a local minister, and a Madison Marine on Okinawa who will spend his fourth Christmas away from home, are included in the final edition of "Yule Mail Call."

In a note to the Press-Record, Mrs. Marie Dunnivant, 2009 Troy street, Madison, submits the name of her son, Marine Sgt. David T. Dunnivant, who is stationed at Camp Hansen on Okinawa.

Mrs. Dunnivant writes—"After spending four years in the Marine Corps, 18 months on duty in Vietnam, David was home just two months when he re-enlisted for another six years. He expects to be assigned overseas for at least two years," his mother commented, adding, "This will make his fourth Christmas away from home."

Formed Depot Boy Scouts
Prior to assignment in Thailand last March, Specialist Fifth Class Dan K. Reed was based at the Granite City Army Depot where he served as chaplain's assistant. He was credited with re-organizing the Depot's Boy Scout program and acted as scoutmaster during his tour of duty here.

Before leaving Granite City, the 24-year-old soldier, a native of New York State, was presented citations in appreciation for his efforts in Boy Scout work from the Depot command and the Cahokia Mound Council. Prior to enlistment, he attended Syracuse University, N. Y., and was an active Boy Scout in his home community.

A local scouting official relates that SP/5 Reed had discussed resuming his education after discharge from the Armed Forces and entering the professional Boy Scout field.

Writing to Rev. Fr. Wilbur L. Lear, pastor of St. Bartholomew's Episcopal Church, where he attended while stationed at the local military installation, the serviceman expressed deep concern regarding anti-war demonstrations at home.

"I have been getting quite disturbed over the recent demonstrations in the U. S., and the attitude of the youth," the soldier writes.

Answer to Demonstrators
"I only wish that I could take every one the demonstrators and take them up north and let them see a small child-eyes filled with fear and tears, clothes tattered, mouth grasping for any type of food and his mother and father lying dead with their tongues cut out because they refused to give up their land for a Thai Cong meeting."

"It is a tragic sight and, at first, really rocked me," Specialist Reed writes. "But, it also made me realize that this was just one more real reason why we, the U. S., should be in South-East Asia."

"Ravaging, killing of nationals, takes place and that cannot be left for a helpless people to contend with. If the communists get a foothold in South-East Asia, it will mean chaos and unsettled disputes; war, for a long time. This, as a civilized nation, we cannot allow," the soldier states.

SP/5 Reed continues, "We, the soldiers in South-East Asia, do not need support like Dr. Spock, Dr. King and draft card burners give us. We need the continued support of our families, friends and country through continued prayer offered by our parishes."

Thankful for Food
The serviceman notes how welcome are boxes of cookies and food items from friends and "wonderful organizations."

"Letters of support from school children and our families and the ever present knowledge that you (the majority) are pulling for us. "Not only in Vietnam is this support needed, it is needed everywhere in South-East Asia and throughout the world where peace is not present. Only by this type of support can we win and be brought home safely," Specialist Reed writes.

He concludes his letter to the local minister by commenting that he wished he could convey his thoughts to a great many more people.

"I feel very strongly about this. We don't want to be here—we don't like being here—but we know that if there is going to be peace, everlasting peace, we must be here."

Although based in Thailand, SP/5 Reed mentions that members of his unit undergo combat alerts.

In typical soldier fashion he

Granite City PRESS-RECORD
Thurs., Dec. 14, 1967 Page 37

notes, "the alerts sharpen our senses and give us a little more esprit de corps." But falling out with full battle gear, loading our vehicles and going to defend a perimeter at 3 a.m. just doesn't cut it," he writes.

Currently with the 331st Supply Co., SP/5 Reed reports he is now assistant to the non-commissioned officer in charge of stock control and a squad leader with eight men in his unit.

Intensified Counseling for Hospitalized Servicemen

An intensification of the Veterans Administration's bedside counseling service for disabled service personnel in military hospitals was reported today by William J. Driver, Administrator of Veterans Affairs.

Acting in response to a Presidential directive to speed and smooth the transition from military to civilian life, Driver reported an 80% increase in the number of hospitalized servicemen counseled in October compared with the monthly average in the previous 11 months.

Applications for the VA's vocational rehabilitation program increased nearly 80%. In October, 4435 servicemen were counseled and 1453 applications processed.

Additionally, 1733 applications for VA disability compensation were filed in military hospitals during October, nearly seven times the monthly average in the previous 11 months.

In the first year of the VA program of counseling disabled servicemen in military hospitals, 31,522 hospitalized military personnel were interviewed, 10,043 applications for VA vocational rehabilitation were received, and 4994 claims for disability compensation were filed.

Driver's report noted that recent Armed Forces directives strengthened the VA's role in advising hospitalized servicemen of their veterans' benefits. It also emphasized the controls which the VA has established in its 57 regional offices to insure that follow-up are made with the disabled serviceman after his separation and return home.

IAA Backs Changes in Livestock Sale Rules

The Illinois Agricultural Association has registered its support of revisions of the U. S. Department of Agriculture's Packers and Stockyards Administration Act to provide uniform grading, weighing and payment standards for livestock sold to packers under grade and yield programs, it was announced by Frank Thomas, executive secretary of the Madison County Farm Bureau. Thomas said that the IAA and the Farm Bureau members in Illinois recognize the trend of buying and selling livestock on the basis of carcass grade, carcass weight or carcass grade and weight is growing in popularity with farmers.

It is important therefore, it was pointed out, that the producers of livestock be protected in regard to weights, shrinkage, method of payment and other conditions of sale, regardless of the method used in selling livestock. At present all terminal markets, local buying points and other traditional methods of selling livestock operate effectively under regulations set up by the Packers and Stockyards Administration, Thomas said.

As a result it seems appropriate, that similar appropriate regulations be set up and administered over the sale of livestock on a grade and weight basis. Provisions called for in the proposed amendment appear fair to all concerned and if properly enforced should do much toward giving producers more information regarding price, weight and quality of livestock which they sell on a grade and yield basis, the IAA said.

halted Auto Struck

The right rear of an auto driven by James Kuhn, 2018 Omaha street, who was stopped in traffic, was struck by another driven by Steve Reinhardt, 2134 Johnson road, who was unable to stop and swerved into a lot.

GC Council Still Pondering Complexities at Intersection

Possible solutions to the traffic bottleneck and confusing congestion at the Nameoki road-street-St. Clair avenue intersection, were tossed about during a conference Monday night between the city council, representatives of the National Food stores and state highway department—but the ultimate answer was not attained.

Granite City council members want St. Clair avenue extended as a street behind the National Food store at Iowa street and along an existing 15-foot alley to Madison avenue. The estimated cost is $87,000.

Other suggestions were for widening of Iowa street which is a mere 23 feet wide at the Nameoki road intersection, restoration of two-way traffic in that one block of Iowa street, reverse of the traffic flow for one-way Iowa street from northbound to southbound.

Offer of $3000

Officials of the food company offered to put $5000 in escrow toward any right-of-way acquisition.

Alderman Ford Johnson, chairman of the Street committee, asked for any other possible solutions, but none were forthcoming, other than the request for a driveway to the store parking lot on Nameoki road near Iowa street. The state highway department has agreed to a curb break there, if the city agrees.

The proposal will be submitted to the council next Monday night for consideration. No action was taken this past Monday, since the meeting was not an official session.

Median Cut Rejected

A suggestion had been made for the Nameoki road median to be opened closer to Madison avenue, but that was rejected by the state highway officials as being too close to a dangerous and busy intersection.

It was noted that St. Clair avenue is the only thoroughfare to serve a large number of heavily populated subdivisions and that with Iowa street being one-way northbound, the outlet at Nameoki road and the signal light at the nearby Madison avenue intersection causes the bottleneck to traffic.

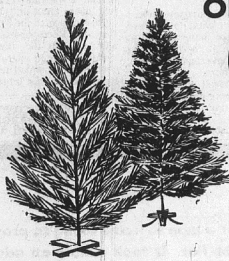

Recently, the left turn arrow for the motorists leaving Nameoki road to go onto Madison avenue was increased from seven seconds to 17 seconds and has eased the problem.

Many of the aldermen have indicated they want no reversal of Iowa street, but there was a discussion that possibly the 3000 block could be made two-way—if widened.

Residents of that block are forced to go onto Nameoki road if they want to travel south, and many are complaining to their aldermen.

Johnson said Monday night he would submit the proposal for the driveway at the National Food store lot near Iowa street to the council next week and seek its approval.

Christmas Program

Young People at State Hospital Being Aided

Area organizations are aiding Alton State Hospital with gift checks to purchase Christmas surprises for young residents there.

Millicent McAfoos, young adult coordinator, said, "We have 38 people ranging in age from 18 to 22, who are presently in the Young Adult Club program and exchange names for the unit Christmas party at the hospital on Dec. 20."

"At that time," she said, "staff personnel and the young ladies will prepare a complete buffet dinner for the evening meal. Through the generosity of others, the kids will have a shopping spree tomorrow to purchase gifts for the gift exchange."

The young adult program is an intensive treatment program which was initiated in July 1965, and the goals are in line with the basic hospital philosophy which states that "The hospital is a therapeutic community with rehabilitation of the total patient and his re-entry into the larger community as primary goals."

"These goals are achieved through the treatment plan for each patient which is begun on admission and continues through discharge, it was explained by Dr. Abraham Simon, superintendent.

Outside Judge Sought To Hear Bartylak Case

Application for appointment of a special judge to handle the case of former State's Atty. Joseph Bartylak was filed this week with the Illinois Supreme Court in Springfield by Chief Circuit Judge James O. Monroe.

Bartylak was indicted earlier this year on 16 counts of theft and one of official misconduct while he was in office. Monroe is seeking a judge from outside the circuit because of previous local associations of the judges here with Bartylak.

Associate Judge Austin Lewis previously refused to hear the case as his own records as state's attorney may come under judicial review. Judge Monroe said he expects to hear from the Supreme Court in about a week.

TRAVELING BY AIR? CALL HOLIDAY SERVICE, GL 2-3131

Special Appeal Made By Local Postmaster

Postmaster W. T. Overbeck of Granite City made a special appeal to area citizens today regarding Christmas mail.

"If you haven't mailed your gifts and greetings yet, please do it now," the postmaster noted that the ancient historian Herodotus wrote of the early post runners.

"Neither snow, nor rain, nor heat, nor gloom of night stays these couriers from the swift completion of their appointed rounds."

That was before ice storms could freeze railroad switches, ground planes and make highway travel treacherous, he said.

During winter, severe weather conditions can be the deciding factor in mail delivery. That, coupled with heavy

Christmas mail volumes, highlights the fact that early mailing of holiday cards and parcels is most important.

Postmaster Overbeck repeated his plea of late November and early December for early mailing and the use of ZIP Code on all mail.

New Laws for Grain Dealers And Grain Bins

Several new state laws, such as those requiring licenses for grain dealers and safety warnings on grain bins, are of particular interest to farmers, according to Frank Thomas, executive secretary of the Madison County Farm Bureau, 900 Hillsboro avenue, Edwardsville.

As of Jan. 1, any person who buys grain from a producer for resale, milling or processing must be licensed by the Illinois Department of Agriculture. Under the new law, grain dealers must not only obtain the license, but must prove financial soundness or be bonded for an amount equal to the value to the largest amount of grain to be purchased during any one-week period.

A producer buying grain for his own use—seed or feed—is not covered by the requirements of the new law, Thomas said.

Another new law that applies to Illinois grain farmers concerns safety warning on grain bins. The legislation is an attempt to halt the growing number of accidental grain drownings inside storage facilities.

The new law requires a warning sign on the outside of all existing grain bins of 10,000 bushel capacity or larger, and on all bins of 100 bushels or more constructed since last Aug. 21. The wording on the signs should be as follows: "Danger. Inspect storage areas for unauthorized persons before removing grain."

The law provides for a penalty of up to $50 for non-compliance; Thomas added.

Mrs. Parks Elected To Civil Service Post

Mrs. Beaumont (Margaret) Parks, assistant to the director of the Health Service at Southern Illinois University—Southwestern Campus, has been elected to a four-year term on the University Civil Service Advisory committee, University Civil Service System of Illinois.

Chosen in a vote among civil service employees of SIU-SW working in Alton, East St. Louis and the new campus, Mrs. Parks succeeded Edward L. Vaughn of Granite City, carpenter foreman for the Southwestern campus.

A graduate of the University of Oregon with a B.S. degree in nursing, Mrs. Parks has been at the SIU-SW campus since February 1961. Before being named assistant director last year, she served three years as head nurse of the Health Service.

Mrs. Parks, who lives at East Alton, spent five years in the U. S. Army Nurse Corps and saw duty in Africa and Europe during world war II. She has been active in work of the Red Cross, United Fund, March of Dimes and school immunization programs, as well as other civic and charitable projects.

The University Civil Service Advisory committee meets four times a year and its members make recommendations to the Merit Board of the University Civil Service System of Illinois.

They were arrested early Saturday for attempting to steal a 1965 auto which they were pushing near the Bellemeade Village shopping center. It belonged to Raymond Kerkemeyer of Edwardsville. Speaks was unable to pay the fines and was taken to the Madison county jail at Edwardsville.

'Late Show' Students

Most Popular Night Spot in Area -- SIU-SW Campus

One of the favorite night spots in the two-state Metropolitan area is the Southwestern campus of Southern Illinois University.

The attraction is higher education, and it is popularized by a large number of University professors and instructors who presently teach more than 4000 students. They represent almost half of the 8500 students attending classes at Edwardsville. The age span of the night group is from the teens into the seventies, any they come from all walks of life.

Although there isn't much humor in what is said, the patrons pay cash, stand in line and sometimes squeeze into jam-packed rooms to get seats.

Southern Illinois University's "educational day" has been stretched from the conventional 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. hours to a span from 7:30 a.m. to 10:20 p.m., in order to provide classroom time to meet growing area demands.

"We kiddingly refer to evening instruction as the 'Late Show,'" assistant registrar C. B. Collier said. "That's when the place opens up for more mature clientele."

At night there is a heavy influx of people over 25 years of age who occupy classrooms after most of the younger students go home to their families.

The late-hour activity attracts housewives, industrialists, businessmen, teachers, other professionals and part-time younger students who are working toward a degree, or simply taking courses to improve knowledge and skills.

As if on cue from the factory whistles in the area a whole new shift of students becomes evident in the halls and classrooms and on the campus grounds. The uniforms of the night are suits, neckties and dinner dresses, as opposed to daytime attire of jackets, jeans, skirts and blouses.

Campus Night Image

Even the campus has a different image at night. Silhouetted against the encroaching darkness, the buildings take on a jeweled appearance with streams of light bursting through the expanses of glass like reflections from a thousand diamonds.

"It's truly a wonderful atmosphere for learning," declared a 20-year-old industrialist. "The fine lighting and pleasing decor of the buildings seem to sharpen by enthusiasm."

With the popularity of evening classes mounting, SIU-SW officials are beginning to wonder about accommodations in the future. This concern is based on present heavy scheduling for both daytime and evening classes.

100% Occupancy

At several hours during the week classrooms are 100% occupied and in the evening this figure sometimes reaches 90%.

"You can draw your own conclusions from these statistics," says Edward W. Soliday, SIU-SW's scheduling official. "It means some activities must be dropped and others scheduled awkwardly."

He said official classes generally survive the crisis but sometimes special programs have to be cancelled. The University has 47 general classrooms and 42 laboratories at the Southwestern campus.

The demand for laboratory space is not as great as that for classroom space. But the laboratories are also used in the University's growing research program.

Soliday, of Wood River, said completion of the General Offices Building in 1969 may provide some relief, but he also noted construction of on-campus housing and just the natural increase in enrollment will eventually overbalance the scales.

No Solid Predictions
"The whole operation is in such a state of flux, it is hard to make any solid predictions," Soliday said. "We just try to keep the variables pinned down as close as possible and hope for the best."

Soliday is making out the schedule now for next summer and he is running into the same old problems—more than enough classroom space at peak periods of activity.

Since higher education is becoming so popular here, Southern Illinois University is investigating increased use of television as a teaching tool at Edwardsville.

Meanwhile, younger students seeking a full-time college education can be expected to concentrate on daytime programs, while the older generation and younger students working part-time continue to use the night hours. To the night group it is not so much the hour, but the opportunity that counts.

NLRB Order in Young Metals Case Affirmed

An order by the National Labor Relations Board directing the company to reinstate two former employees who the board ruled were discharged for refusal to join the union, and to return to all employees and former employees all dues and fees collected from them by the union. Original order in the NLRB proceeding was issued in March 1966, following lengthy proceedings initiated by the United Steelworkers of America which had sought to represent plant workers.

The NLRB also held that both the company, which began operations in Granite City in the summer of 1964, and the Boilermakers Union, were guilty of unfair labor practices in negotiating a contract at a time when there were only two employees, and in allegedly coercing future employees into joining the union.

Expect Compliance
A spokesman at the St. Louis regional office of the NLRB told the Press-Record that he had discussed the matter with company officials and that the NLRB "expects compliance in the case." At the plant, company spokesmen said he was unable to discuss the question as to whether there would be further appeal of the NLRB order.

The NLRB case involved allegations by the United Steelworkers that the contract between the company and the Boilermakers union was invalid and constituted unfair labor practices because it was signed before the company began actual production operations.

Representatives of the steelworkers maintained they were refused permission to distribute literature or discuss with the workers the selection of the United Steelworkers as the bargaining agent for plant employees.

The proceedings originally were initiated against Young & Greenwald Co., the company name of the plant in 1964 and 1965. It now is known as Young Metal Products Co.

The company, which was formed at Ft. Campbell, Ky., has joined the 17th Aviation Group's 10th Combat Aviation Battalion and will operate out of Anson. WO Wachter is an aviator in the company.

Ministers of Two States Meeting on Church Problems

Decision makers from 17 church denominations in the two-state metropolitan area are meeting today and tomorrow at Pere Marquette State Park to consider united witness and action in response to the unmet human needs in the Illinois area.

Dr. O. Walter Wagner, Ecumenical Minister of the Metropolitan Church Federation, St. Louis area, in his opening remarks asked the 32 delegates to meet the crises in metropolitan areas with an openness to such new structures in order to enable the churches to be creatively in redemptive mission.

Three major topics are being discussed—Crisis in Metropolitan Areas; Opportunity for the Church; and What Will We Do about It? Besides the main line Protestant Churches usually affiliated with the council, the consultation sponsored jointly by the Metropolitan Church Federation of Greater St. Louis and the Illinois Council of Churches, includes the Lutherans and the Roman Catholics.

General Steel Establishes International Hq. in Canada

General Steel Industries, Inc., has established a new subsidiary, General Steel International, Ltd., with headquarters in Montreal, Canada, to serve as a unit for the expansion of GSI's international marketing and manufacturing operations.

W. Ashley Gray Jr., GSI president, announced Tuesday.

The GSI subsidiary is primarily responsible for the development of new areas of international business for the company.

Adrian C. Bornemisa, Montreal, has been appointed vice president of the new unit. He was formerly director of plant and development for Atlas Petroleum Group, Nassau, and has wide experience in international business development.

"GSI's international growth is of increasing significance to the company," Gray announced.

"With additional plants being established overseas and expansion of product lines, the establishment of a corporate function for further international operations is a logical move for us at this time."

Gray also announced the establishment of production facilities in West Germany, Argentina and Mexico by GSI's Flex-O-Lite Division for the manufacture of industrial glass beads.

"These new plants, in addition to Flex-O-Lite units already in operation in the United States and in Toronto and Montreal, Canada, provide a very significant opportunity for GSI to serve the growing world market for reflective and industrial glass beads," Gray said.

Tickets Available for 'Mame' Theatre Trip
A limited number of tickets are available for the Granite City Park district's theatre trip to "Mame," the smash-hit Broadway musical starring Celeste Holm, to be presented at Kiel Opera House on Thursday, Dec. 28.

Harold Brown, park district superintendent, today said a total of 45 reservations will be accepted at the Wilson Park office prior to Wednesday, Dec. 20. He pointed out that at least 35 reservations must be received by the deadline date to avoid cancellation of the trip.

Tickets include 25 orchestra seats, at $9 per person, and 20 front balcony seats, at $7 each. An additional $1 charge will be made for round-trip bus transportation, Brown said.

A special bus will depart from the Wilson Park ice rink parking area at 7:15 p.m. Dec. 28, with certain time scheduled for 8:30 p.m. To accommodate the anticipated capacity audience, all performances of "Mame" will be presented at Kiel Opera House instead of the American Theatre, Brown reported.

Reservations may be made by calling 877-3069, before next Wednesday.

Hearing Jan. 25 on Service Tax Legality

Oral arguments on the constitutionality of the Illinois service occupation tax extended by action of the General Assembly in its session earlier this year will be heard by the Illinois Supreme Court Jan. 25. Briefs are to be filed in the case later this month.

Date of the hearing was fixed by Supreme Court Justice Thomas E. Clancy of Chicago, after the state appealed a Chicago court ruling that the tax is unconstitutional.

The tax—an extension of the state sales tax on services in four categories—was held invalid on grounds that it applies only to select groups. The tax was to raise $70 million per year for the state and failure to get it will jeopardize the state, according to Revenue Department Director Theodore Jones.

The service tax will remain in effect and will be collected until the Supreme Court rules.

United Fund Drive Still Open--Now at 94.9% Mark

The Tri-Cities Area United Fund still is $19,748 short of its 1968 goal of $394,000, but a ray of hope brightened the campaign this week with announcement that another section has topped its quota.

Mitchell S. Milonski, general chairman, said yesterday that "Lil Angel awards are due for Fred Barnes and William Bridwell, who are co-chairmen of the transportation employee section of the Industrial Employees Division headed by Thomas Ditchfield."

The section had a quota of $2750, and pledges amounted to $2946, or 105.9%.

"This is proof," Milonski said, "that we haven't given up yet. The drive is now at the 94.9% mark and pledges total more than last year's, but we still have that $394,000 goal."

Pledge cards still are being worked and reviewed. And, a few that are unaccounted for are in the process of being traced.

The chairman noted that at

SIU Offers Three Courses on Rhine River

Southern Illinois University will offer three courses in a villa on the Rhine River during the summer of 1968.

The courses are "Development of German Democracy," a senior and graduate government course, and accelerated second-year and third-year college German courses.

SIU Awards 25,999 Degrees in 60 Years

Sixty years ago President Daniel B. Parkinson awarded the first two bachelor degrees in a commencement at Southern Illinois University, thereby starting the transition from two-year teachers training to four-year college status.

Last September, President Delyte W. Morris awarded bachelors degree No. 25,999, and at the same commencement conferred the University's 6424th masters and the 241st doctor of philosophy degrees. Statistics on degrees granted by Southern Illinois University were presented as a matter of record to the University's board of trustees meeting at Carbondale.

GC Student Named To State Youth Council by CYO

Margaret Hall, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Hall, 2419 Edison Avenue, has been appointed to the Illinois Council of Youth as a representative of the Catholic Youth Organization.

She is a junior at St. Teresa Academy in East St. Louis.

The appointment was announced by Walter Brissenden, chairman of the State Commission on Children.

MARGARET HALL

McTasney to Graduate From Parks College

Richard L. McTasney, son of Mr. and Mrs. John McTasney, Graceland, Ill., received his bachelor of science degree in aerospace engineering and his commission as a second lieutenant in the U. S. Air Force Reserve at the fall trimester commencement exercises of Parks College of Aeronautical Technology of St. Louis University held in the college gymnasium Wednesday.

While at Parks, he was a member of the campus chapter of the American Institute of Aeronautics and Astronautics.

A graduate of Granite City High School, he is married to the former Mary Sue Lucash of Granite City. Until he is called to active duty, Lt. McTasney has accepted employment with the U. S. Army Aviation Materiel Command.

Arts Museum Planned By Katherine Dunham

Katherine Dunham, dancer, choreographer and now artist-in-residence at Southern Illinois University - Southwestern campus, will be recommended as cultural affairs consultant in Public Administration and Metropolitan Affairs. If approved by the board of trustees, her new assignment would become effective with the winter quarter.

The new program will include establishing, on an experimental basis, a performing arts museum and instructor-training program at the university's East St. Louis center to insure continuation of the Katherine Dunham method of instruction.

Part of the museum will be based on selected memorabilia from Miss Dunham's 30-year career as a performer. She calls it a "dynamic museum" because "I think these artifacts represent pretty much of my life."

Her collection includes costumes, headresses, jewelry, posters, theater decor, music, rare books, tapes, films and programs from 50 countries. Much of it comes from the West Indies, South America and Africa.

She is giving her artifacts to SIU, she said, "because I want to keep the material alive, not buried out of reach. I came to SIU at the request of President Delyte W. Morris and Dean Burnett Shryock of SIU's School of Fine Arts and I feel the president understands what the collection means to me and appreciates what I want to do with it. It is our plan to have the museum open to the public daily and once a week hold a seminar to explain the material to the students."

Under the direction of Miss Dunham's husband, John Pratt, four student workers from the Experiment in Higher Education will help set up the museum at 532 and 616 Tenth street in East St. Louis. Pratt, who designed the costumes and theater decor, will serve as curator of the museum. Miss Dunham and her husband will reside at 532 Tenth street.

Teenage Jurors

Included is an attempt to provide teenage jurors for juvenile courts instead of adult juries, and a discussion of the outcome of a state survey on teenage drivers.

The purpose of the council is to provide a channel through which a representative body of youth may have a voice and take responsibility for the determination and solution of problems facing youth.

The council grew out of the experience and participation of youth in the planning for the 1960 White House Conference on Children and Youth in which they had an opportunity to discuss, come to a consensus of opinion and recommend to adults the solution to problems facing youth.

The youths who attended the White House Conference wanted to continue this channel for getting their ideas to adults, and they requested that the Commission on Children make this a permanent body.

The new representative is a member of St. Joseph's parish.

Army Enlistees Can Be Home for Holidays

"Home for the holidays" might well be the title of the Christmas-New Year's leave policy announced recently by the U. S. Army Recruiting Station here.

Enlistees who enter the Army up to Dec. 20 will be processed at the Armed Forces Examining and Entrance Stations and transferred to Army reception stations, Fort Leonard Wood, Mo. They then will be offered leave and may return to their homes for the holidays. Young men enlisting between Dec. 21-28 will be offered leave at the examining and entrance stations and will return there for transfer to the reception stations on Jan. 3.

Under this program, Sergeant First Class Harold Pratte continued, new enlistees may join more than 200,000 Army trainees who will head for home when training pauses, Dec. 16. Army school classes and training will resume Jan. 2. Although commanders are required to maintain readiness, as many permanent party cadre, instructors and support personnel as possible will be permitted to go on holiday leave. Some will be given leave for Christmas, others during the New Year period. For those who must remain on military duty during the holidays, extensive activity programs will be provided.

The Army thus is attempting to insure that all its personnel—whether new recruit or senior officer—have a happy holiday season.

Organized Criminals Can Be Jailed, FBI Head Says

Organized hoodlums and racketeers can be put in jail despite the myth of invincibility which has grown up about them, John Edgar Hoover, director of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, pointed out to Quad-City law enforcement officials Tuesday.

In a communication sent to area officials, Hoover said: "By the very nature of its operations, organized crime continually encounters by law enforcement officers do not fall into the same category, since La Cosa Nostra members—the most powerful group of hoodlums in the country today—are all this and more. In fact, their organization has come to mean a veritable way of life to them."

"Because of their oath of silence, the threats of violence directed against potential witnesses, the conspiratorial nature of their crimes, and the civic protection they are able to buy, it is much more difficult to prosecute them than the individual thief, who must generally rely upon his own resources."

"Despite all this and the myth of invincibility which has grown up about them, organized hoodlums and racketeers can be put into jail. It is not easy, but it is well worth the time and effort expended. The successful prosecution of a notorious organized crime leader deals a serious blow to syndicate operations. Reverberations are felt all up and down the chain of command."

"One case we in the FBI encountered, for example, involved the Nation's largest bookmaker and required our Agents to examine thousands of records in more than two dozen States. Finally, however, the gambling czar was sentenced in Federal court last May to serve 10 years in prison for violating the interstate transportation in aid of racketeering act."

"Another major investigation, this time of a hoodlum 'scam' (planned bankruptcy) operation, required the efforts of all of our offices, ranging from New York to California and from Minnesota to Alabama, and ultimately resulted in the conviction in Federal court of four underworld associates for violating the bankruptcy, mail fraud, and conspiracy statutes."

"The head of La Cosa Nostra activities in Chicago recently spent a year in jail for refusing to testify before a Federal grand jury and then left the country. Several months ago, his successor and one of his principal lieutenants were each sentenced to 15 years in Federal prison for extorting large sums of money from a suburban building contractor."

"Last year nearly 200 other major hoodlums were convicted in Federal courts on charges of bank robbery, theft from interstate shipments, interstate transportation of stolen property, labor racketeering, interstate gambling, and similar charges. Marked success can be attained on the local, state, and federal levels if everyone works together."

"For its part, the FBI disseminates all the information it develops regarding local violations, and last fiscal year more than 3,700 racket and vice figures were arrested by other agencies as a result of this dissemination, an increase of more than 1,000 over the previous year."

"While there is still much to be done, we think the trend is encouraging, and we hope the fight against organized crime continues to grow at an even more rapid pace in the coming years. The country is relying upon us. We must not fail."

Dec. 24 Church Programs Due

Church Christmas programs for Dec. 23 or 24 will be published in next Thursday's issue, Dec. 21. Church pastors and secretaries who did not include next week's programs with the ones turned in this week, are asked to bring them to the Press-Record office, 1818 Delmar avenue, over the weekend.

In the event the office is closed, there are drop-slots by the front doors.

Water Best Xmas Tree Fire Preventative

All known sprays, dips and special treatments as a fire preventative still are no match for fresh Christmas trees standing in water, it was pointed out today by Wayne B. Siefert, area adviser of ornamental horticulture for Madison and St. Clair counties.

Siefert said that extensive testing indicates a fresh cut tree standing in water is as effective as a fireproofing practice as the best spray-on materials known. Most Christmas trees, he said, will maintain this fireproof characteristic if one inch of the trunk is cut off and the trunk placed in water.

The water treatment will work better if the tree is soaked with a garden hose and kept outside for several days. The fragrance, freshness, beauty and fireproof qualities can last up to three weeks if the water supply is maintained while the tree is indoors. Some trees, Siefert explained, are too dry to absorb water and if this condition is apparent there is no fireproofing present.

Tests show how a sodium silicate (waterglass), water and detergent mixture as a good fire retardant, he said. Dipping or two coats of the sprayed-on mixture work best.

Convertible Bonds, Stocks Urged

By THOMAS E. O'HARA
Chairman, National Association of Investment Clubs

Q. I bought Admiral and National Video at high prices. Shall I sell them at a loss, or wait and see if they do better?

A. Admiral has a long record of growth and profitability, but just recently its earnings have been down. National Video has yet to establish a record which would tend to give a confident picture of its future.

Of course, do not know what the future holds for these companies any more than you do, but on the basis of the record, I would hold Admiral. If I had another stock which I felt I understood well, I'd probably switch the National Video money into it.

Q. I would like some information and advice on buying convertible bonds. I understand my broker makes very little money on the kind of bond and so does not handle it.

A. You are right that the conversion on bonds is much less than on stocks.

You can get a convertible feature on either bonds or preferred stock. I don't think it makes much difference which you buy.

Convertibles are a way of having your cake and eating it.

If the firm is a success, your convertible rights enable you to acquire the common shares when this would give you a capital gain. And in the meantime you probably have been receiving higher dividends than you would have on the common alone.

I'm sure there are many brokers who would be pleased to give you information about the many securities with convertible features.

In these days of inflation and insecurity, what is the best investment in case of a severe depression? I well remember the 1930s and I can't help but, even of bonds.

A. I think you would be making a mistake in investing as a depression were imminent. You can, of course, put your money into accounts with banks or savings and loan associations, where the federal government guarantees your deposits up to $15,000. That would be about as safe as anything you could do.

But suppose you guessed wrong and inflation comes roaring in on you? Even with plowing back all interest, your $15,000 in 20 years might be worth much less than that in actual purchasing power.

I suggest that you take the long view on investing.

No one knows what is going to happen in the immediate future. That, according to most economists, depends a lot on whether or not the war in Vietnam is settled.

But if you take the long view, you'll have to agree that by and large, we do solve our problems.

Furthermore, when the war does come to an end, a large part of the world will remain as it is and will need to be built up industrially. Nor have we in America arrived at the economic summit of our own standard of living.

A person can do himself a good deal of harm by taking too gloomy an outlook at the future. We must take care that we don't push ourselves into investment simply by being over-cautious.

Having said that, let me hasten to add that I'm not advocating wild-eyed speculation or unbridled in-and-out trading on the stock market, either. I believe in sensible investments in well-managed companies offer a good future—regardless of the problems which may beset the world in the next six months.

Have you a question about investing? Mr. O'Hara, editor of the monthly magazine "Better Investing," and one of the nation's recognized authorities, will answer as many as possible in his column or by personal letter. Write to: Mr. O'Hara, National Association of Investment Clubs, 500 N. Dearborn, Detroit, Mich. 48231.

Name and address must accompany each letter but will not be revealed if anonymity is requested. Contributions of less than 250 words will be given preference. All letters subject to condensation and grammatical changes. Those that are not in good form will be rejected or delayed.

OPENING OF STORES
To the Editor:

In a Nov. 30 Press-Record article the Ministerial Association said the stores downtown would stay closed on Sundays. The association said it will try to have all the other stores also close on Sundays.

What is so wrong about it? If we don't do anything more wrong than stores opening on Sundays, we will be all right.

Economic Value of Man Crosses Quarter Million Dollar Mark

(Institute of Life Insurance)

Mirroring two and a half decades of growth and prosperity, the economic value of a man in the United States has crossed the quarter of a million dollar mark, adding a dramatic footnote to the human side of national progress.

Latest government data places the figure at $250,000 for 1964. This is close to a third greater than in 1938 when the economic value of a man first reached the $200,000 level.

It is nearly double the U. S. Bureau of Census estimate of $130,000 for 1949.

These totals are overall figures for the prospective lifetime income of an average man just starting out as a career, based on then and currently prevailing income and survival rates.

They are a measure of a man's potential economic worth as a worker and as a producer to himself, his family, and to society as a whole.

A natural consequence of this development has been a spectacular expansion in personal security and thrift programs to help protect the individual and the family against the economic impact of death, retirement, accident and illness, disability and unemployment.

$70 Billion for 'Cushion'

Today a total of more than $70 billion a year, equivalent to an eighth of the entire national income, is going into a security "cushion" of public and private personal protection programs.

The flow of benefits from these programs is now more than $30 billion a year, or a billion dollars a week.

These figures are exclusive of additions to personal savings and investments and their return in interest and dividends.

With its key role in personal security, insurance has been a major force in the expansion. This is evident in the growth in life insurance in force in legal reserve companies, where the total approached the $800 billion level by the end of 1965 and at its present rate of growth seems certain to reach a trillion dollars next year.

Many Factors Involved

A man's economic worth and the progress he makes are, of course, the result of a variety of factors and their interaction in the course of his working life.

Many of these are personal—his qualifications, abilities, ambition and other characteristics. And there is the basic element of the economy and its performance and the opportunities it provides for a rising population.

But what stands out particularly is the overriding importance of education and its rising value to an individual's earning power and economic well-being in dollars and cents.

The figures show, for example,

Junior Achievers Learning Ups, Downs Of Business By Operating 17 Companies

"Will the 1967-68 fiscal year be a good one for our line of products? Should we diversify? What can we do to improve quality control and expand sales?"

The conversation is similar to what might be expected in corporation board rooms, but actually is that of 400 Quad-City teenagers who devote their leisure time to the operation of 17 Junior Achievement companies.

Thanks to the sponsorship of A. O. Smith Corp., General Steel Industries, First Granite City National Bank, Dow Chemical Co., Waggoner Trucking, American Steel Foundries and Granite City Steel Co., the groups of high school students have issued stock and begun manufacturing and selling useful merchandise.

At the end of the year in May they will liquidate their operations and disband.

Through a "learn by doing" concept, the young men and women are gaining valuable insight into the challenges and opportunities of the world of business and industry, while simultaneously experiencing the fun and satisfaction of creative effort. Many graduates will enter successful business careers upon completing their schooling.

The Junior Achievement building at 3307 Wabash avenue is a busy center of activity each weekday evening, producing holiday wreaths, mosaic ashtrays, spice racks, trunk lid holders, battery cables, embossed matches, house markers and change purses.

The articles of professional caliber, the price is right and the cause is worthy. We recommend them to all.

Some Collected Air Particles, When Disposed Of, Create New Pollution

By EARL L. WILSON
President, Industrial Gas
Cleaning Institute

(Second of three articles)

There is real need for a monitoring device or technique that will remotely and accurately measure stack effluents on a weight basis, not on some basis that will readily correlate air pollution opacity to measurement by weight.

In addition, there is still much to be done in developing economically attractive uses for the collected particulate.

One example, for example, is high in iron content, but for the most part, remains waste material.

Tons of unusable flyash are collected daily.

These are just two of the many examples of waste materials that presently must be disposed of and which often constitute new air pollution problems during and after disposal.

Huge Quantities

Few people appreciate the quantities involved.

Considered in an electrostatic precipitator installed on a new 100-megawatt power generating unit will collect 500 tons of flyash per day. And the individual sources add up to inordinately large totals.

Some of the flyash alone collected in the United States annually would fill a train almost 4000 miles long.

What of research and development activities?

The state of the art is such that research on particulate control devices can be, and is, primarily concerned with product improvement, cost reduction and development of new and different methods for doing the job.

We have recently conducted a survey of waste materials to determine the extent and kind of our involvement in research and development. We found that in 1966 we increased by 71.5% the number of people on our payroll who are engaged in research and development work.

Agreement On New Ward Lines By Spring Would Be A Helpful Courtesy To Voters

Granite City officials are wise in forming a committee and launching their redistricting study at this time.

There is not as much time in which to act as indicated at last week's council meeting.

"A year and a half" was mentioned, but unless boundaries for seven new wards can be agreed upon by this spring another election marked by confusion could result. Summer time vacations make committee progress difficult, and by next fall prospective candidates—including incumbent aldermen—should be permitted to know the new ward territories.

The experience in the April 1967 municipal election and a subsequent Appellate Court order should provide enough incentive to council members to get on with their reappointment duties. If not, any citizen can file suit at any time to compel action, but there is no reason why such prodding should be necessary.

The city owes it to voters not to put them through another ordeal involving filing and balloting uncertainty and frustration.

Holdover aldermen are available in this year's election although the previous eight wards were extensively revised. However, the public did not regard them as responsible for the turmoil stemming from a sudden council realignment.

We doubt that councilmen up for election in April 1969 would be dealt with as kindly if a deliberate redistricting snarl developed.

Small World Becoming Smaller

"Afghanistanism," which the Press-Record tries to avoid anyway, isn't going to be possible much longer.

The word describes the practice of voicing detailed concern about a subject so obscure or far away that readers lack sufficient independent information on which to base an opinion. Such concern is considered in the hands of anybody will disagree with them, but they are a bit pointless.

We notice that Miss Bea Cooley this week addressed a local organization on "Fly Over the Russian Steppe to Central Asia and Visit Ancient Afghanistan and Fabulous Persia." She did just that last year, and shared her experiences with the group.

If this sort of thing continues, which we heartily encourage, there's going to be virtually no topic on which Quad-Cityans don't have a wealth of information and understanding.

Army Depot Pioneering In Efforts To Train Unemployed In This Region

Another "first" has been chalked up by the Granite City Army Depot, initial military installation to implement the "New Careers" program. Jobless young men and women will be employed at the Depot after several months of special training there and at SIU-SW.

The new jobs they are to fill will make possible more active participation of professional staffs, including those currently in short supply. Supplementing doctors, nurses, law enforcement officers, librarians and recreation directors, they will carry out other agency work under their supervision.

Enrollment of 16 trainees in initial "New Careers" training beginning tomorrow is an example of the local Army base's close cooperation with other agencies seeking to end deprivation and bolster community health, education and public safety services.

Illinois Law Prohibits Lotteries But Not If Customer Pays Nothing

(Tri-City and Illinois Bar Associations)

Lotteries are illegal under the Constitution of Illinois, but the prohibition does not apply to the games of chance being conducted in this state by supermarket chains, oil companies and other organizations at no cost to customers for chances to win.

Three elements must be present in order to constitute a lottery: (1) a prize, (2) a chance to win the prize, and (3) a consideration—or cost for the chance, such as buying a ticket.

1964 High Court Ruling

In 1964, the Illinois Supreme Court ruled that a give-away promotion being conducted by a food store chain in this state was not illegal since one of the three necessary elements—consideration—was lacking.

The decision opened the way for similar promotional activities involving games of chance for the benefit of charitable firms.

Illinois is not alone in banning lotteries. In 1900, there were lotteries in every state. But by 1920, only 10 states had made them illegal.

The prohibition contained in the Illinois Constitution reads: "The General Assembly shall have no power to authorize lotteries or gift enterprises for any purpose, and shall pass laws which:

1. Make it illegal for any person to possess the winnings of any lottery, or to sell or attempt to sell a part-unit bet at the race track.
2. Prohibit issuing or renewing a liquor license to any person, establishment, partnership or corporation that holds a federal gambling tax stamp. (If a person permits gambling without a stamp, it is in violation of federal law. If the tavern buys the stamp, it loses its Illinois liquor license.)
3. Prohibit any minor person (under 21 years of age) from attending a horse race meeting except in the company of a parent or guardian. (Betting by minors at the track is prohibited by an old law.)

Steel-Studded Snow Tires Evaluated

By E. A. WHITEHURST
Director, Tennessee Highway Research Program

Steel-studded snow tires increase traction significantly on glare ice, but reinforced tire chains provide materially greater traction.

I serve as director of the winter skid tests conducted annually by the National Safety Council's Committee on Winter Driving Hazards, and base my conclusions on the Council's 1967 winter test project at Stevens Point, Wis.

New studied snow tires on the rear wheels only reduced braking distances on ice by 19%, as compared with regular highway tires.

After 2500 miles of wear, this improvement dropped to 13%. With studied tires on all four wheels the braking distance was reduced by 31% when snow, and 17% when used.

New reinforced tire chains on the rear wheels only reduced braking distances on ice by 50%, as compared with regular highway tires without chains.

From the standpoint of traction or pulling ability on glare ice, studied snow tires developed about three times the pulling ability of regular tires. Reinforced tire chains provided more than seven times the pulling ability of regular tires.

A somewhat surprising observation of the 1967 tests was that conventional snow tires (without studs) seemed to stop on ice, although they do improve both traction and stopping ability in loosely packed snow.

One apparent reason for this new finding is that regular highway tires have shown a steady and substantial improvement in their stopping ability on ice in recent years. Snow tires have also improved, but not enough to offset the outstanding improvement in regular highway tires.

No matter what the driver uses to improve traction on snow and ice—snow tires, studded tires or tire chains—the instant can he stop or go nearly as well as with conventional highway tires on a dry pavement.

This means that far slower than normal speeds are essential for safe driving on slippery pavements.

Taxes Taking Over 30% of Wages

(Taxpayers' Federation of Illinois)

A household budget is made up of many things, including the costs of housing and household operations, food, tobacco, transportation, clothing, recreation, medical and miscellaneous.

But the average American works two hours and 25 minutes of every eight-hour day to meet federal, state and local taxes.

In working two hours and 25 minutes in each eight-hour working day to meet his total tax bill, the American worker puts in 30.2% of his workday time raising the revenue to meet this bill.

The 1967 tax bite in the eight-hour day is broken down as follows:

- Taxes—2 hours, 25 minutes; housing and household operations—1 hour, 26 minutes; food, tobacco, transportation, clothing, recreation, medical and miscellaneous—30 minutes.

Local, state and national taxes take up more than half the time for taxpayers to insist that candidates stand for all possible economies.

Certain functions of government and programs are essential and will cost more in the future. But a real test of the time for taxpayers to insist that candidates stand for all possible economies.

The subject of economic feasibility wouldn't be complete without a look at cost trends.

In recent years there has been sharp drop in cost measured by efficiency for electric static precipitators used to collect dust from the other types of equipment also have experienced reductions.

Though it is impossible to say what the exact percentage drop was for the industry as a whole, we know that today, equipment for high capacity collection can be purchased for the same amount of money as would have been required for much less efficient equipment ten years ago.

Educators Told

Activist, Hippie, Square Inhabit College Campus

Three kinds of students—the activist, the hippie, and the square—inhabit the campus today, Dr. Miriam A. Sheldon, dean of women and dean of personnel at the University of Illinois, Urbana, said this week.

Addressing Illinois high school principals, counselors and English teachers attending a school-university articulation conference, Dean Sheldon said of the present crop of students, "You know and we know that they are bright," and gave statistics on the makeup of the current student body.

Student Makeup

The U. of I. students at Urbana: Come from all 102 counties of Illinois from all the states except Alaska, plus the District of Columbia and four U. S. possessions; and from 89 foreign nations.

They total 30,407 individuals—half under 21 years old. Incoming, 404 are under 18; one is 70.

Of the 30,407, almost 7500 are graduate students; another 900 are professional students in law or veterinary medicine; another 108 are unclassified or irregular students. Thus, 71% of the total enrollment is undergraduate.

Overall, there are 20,173 men students and 10,234 co-eds. Of the 22,017 undergraduates 1547 are married (558 of them women); among 7459 graduates, 4040 are married (870 of them women). Thus 18.9% of all students at Urbana are married.

In the current student body are 177 physically handicapped students.

"These data tell us that we must meet the needs of our student body in many ways," Dean Sheldon pointed out.

Recognition, Emancipation
 "The 50% who are 21 or older want recognition of their legal status as adults; the 50% are under 21 want emancipation from adolescence to adulthood by recognition in college of adult status comparable to what they perceive to be enjoyed by the working adult."

"Graduate students want a voice in university governance and cultural and intellectual interest groups and spontaneous, small-group social interchange."

"Undergraduate leaders now talk 'student power,' yet many students continue their usual lives untroubled."

"Freshmen want academic success in their first year. Sophomores, like middle children, want attention to their need for academic decision making. Juniors, having chosen a major, hit their stride and balance a heavy academic load with top leadership positions in student government and activities. Seniors often look past their diploma to the draft, to graduate school, to marriage and to first jobs."

Students Described
 Dean Sheldon characterized the three kinds of students at Illinois today as:

"Activists who are reformers—meddlesome as missionaries—often arrogant—as dominant and autocratic as they claim the Establishment to be... They challenge and test, often refusing to accept the relevance of history and perhaps thereby are doomed to repeat it."

"They may lose sight of ends in their absorption with means. They believe in the innate goodness of Man—and the new morality which places honesty above other virtues. They think innate goodness; they act as if all but their generation were evil; it is more than 'generational gap'; it is an unresolvable personal ethic not yet ready to accept good and evil embodied in the same person."

not shake the world like the activists; they may not escape like the hippies; but they will hold the world together in sanity, in reconciliation, in stability—giving freedom and new ideas a chance to grow."

NOW you can buy an automatic ELECTRIC POST LIGHT

Here's an idea for adding new charm to the exterior of your home. An electric post light near your drive or sidewalk gives a warm, friendly touch to the front of your home. An electric eye turns the light on automatically at dusk... and turns the light off automatically at dawn. A post light can prevent falls. And it provides a sense of security, too, because you know there is always a light on after dark. Choose from two different models. Each has a convenience outlet on the post.

Youth Enlists in Army, Taking Basic Training

Clarence Elbert Gibson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Gibson, 2533 North street, enlisted in the Army Monday and is now undergoing basic training at Fort Leonard Wood, Mo., local recruiters announced.

School Holiday Dec. 22 Voted

The Granite City school board Monday night declared Friday, Dec. 22, a holiday for students and certificated employees.

Non-certificated personnel, such as cooks and custodians, will work Dec. 22, but will have Tuesday, Dec. 26, as an added day off.

Original plans had called for classes to be dismissed for the Christmas-New Year's holiday period after Thursday, Dec. 21. This was changed in the calendar when the state established Columbus Day as a holiday.

"We still have five emergency days available and these can, at the board's discretion, be granted for other purposes," said Bob J. Davis said in recommending that pupils and teachers receive a holiday Dec. 22.

Students Skip Lunch For India's Children

More than 1300 Eastern Illinois University students skipped Monday's lunch in the residence halls.

They didn't, however, "fast" to protest anything. They fasted that children in India may eat. The actual raw food cost of each lunch—approximately 32 cents—was multiplied by 1347—the number of students who agreed to skip the meal—and a check for that amount will be sent to UNICEF's "Food For India Drive." The figure will be approximately $430.

U.I. Frosh Enrollment High, So is Quality

Increasing pressure for admission from would-be freshmen and decreasing space for such new freshmen is the enrollment picture of Urbana, Dr. E. E. Oliver, acting university dean of admissions, reported today.

At the same time, Dean Oliver said, the quality of U. of I. freshmen at Urbana continues to be high—higher all along the line than the "university norm group" studied in an American Council on Education project.

Headed the bill for Dec. 30 will be the Mosburg Shotgun. The local group includes Jim Gilmore, singer; Denny Kilmer, rhythm guitar and singer; Gerry Rock, lead guitar; Rick Weeks, bass guitar; and Rick Fossick, drums.

74 Students Receive State Aid at Lebanon

Seventy-four students at McKendree College, Lebanon, received $61,500 this year under the Illinois grant program, according to the Illinois State Scholarship Commission.

Denver Hammonds, financial aid officer at McKendree, said the amount was the largest ever received by McKendree students and was more than four times the amount received last year.

The grants averaged $831 and will be used to defray tuition and fees. The maximum award for any Illinois student is $1000. It will be raised to $1100 next year.

Christmas Follies Set Saturday at Venice High

By SUSAN STERN

The Venice high school Student Council will sponsor its annual variety show, "Christmas Follies," at 8 p.m. Saturday in the school gym.

The coronation of Miss Venetian will also take place, with the candidates being Jan Hayden, Joan Pickens and Mary Mulnik. The girl selling the most tickets to the show will be crowned.

The girls chose their own escorts, Joan picked Jim Miller, Jan selected Russell Turner and Mary chose Mike Leatherman. The retiring queen, Miss Bernice Koelker, will crown the new queen.

Tryouts for the variety show were held last week. Judges were Miss Rogers Davis, Mrs. Josephine Davis, Miss Morene Groshong and Mrs. Gwendolyn Duke.

About 20 acts were selected from both the grade and high school. They include bands, dances, songs, impersonations and acrobatics. The mistress of ceremonies will be Linda Marcus, a senior.

Computerized Job-Hunting Available

Free computerized job-hunting on a national scale is now available to graduating seniors of the country's colleges and universities, according to Roy R. Bryant, director of Southern Illinois University's placement services, Carbondale.

SCAN, short for Student Career Automated Network, is the electronic link between seniors and prospective employers.

"Any graduating senior, college graduate or educator now can fill out a special form at his college placement office which will be filed with the appropriate data processing center," Bryant said.

"Companies, agencies or educational institutions joining the various systems can quickly receive by teletype or mail the credentials of all the applicants on file who meet their requirements."

"These new placement services give registered applicants national exposure and open new rapid channels to employers for recruiting personnel," he explained.

In Memoriam 33

In loving memory of NICK JAKET, Dec. 16, 1966: The face I loved is now laid low, His loving smile still lingers on. The hand so often clasped in mine Lies now in death's cold chill. I often sit and think of him, When I am all alone; For memory is the only thing That gets by his own. Sadly missed by Wife and Children. 33-12-14

In loving memory of DORA DAY RASH, who passed away Dec. 16, 1967: Five years today God called you to rest. Through your suffering and pain, He knows best, Nothing but memories as I journey on. Down life's highway so all alone. None knows the depths of my regret. But I remember when others forget. Many heartaches, and silent tears. At the end of five long years. Sadly missed by husband Herbert. 33-12-14
